

Ms. Bridget Carper is serving as the Deputy Chief Information Officer (DCIO) for Customer Relationship and Performance Management (CRPM) within the Office of Chief Information Officer at the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). As the career DCIO, Ms. Carper integrates Customer, Information Technology, Performance, and Risk Management strategy for IT solutions to meet HUD's mission needs.

Her major efforts within HUD, include optimizing internal processes and spearheading modernization of 30 plus year old/antiquated systems thereby cutting down on waste and saving millions of dollars to HUD and the mortgage industry.

As a proven leader, she has led multiple initiatives within the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government. Ms. Carper continues to incorporate private industry's best practices in improving HUD's processes and systems. With her "Get it Done" attitude, Ms. Carper has won several accolades both in private and Federal sector including winning the G2Xchange Disruptive Tech Award for IT modernization in 2020.